

Symposium - Failure analysis

The main objective of the ICSI Failure analysis Symposium is to disseminate works and studies about the evaluation of failures and actions to improve the performance and reliability of systems, sub-systems or components from the fields of mechanical, manufacturing, transports, oil and gas, civil, chemical, corrosion and design engineering developed by scientists, researchers, users and specialists in the Failure Analysis field.

organized by Virginia Infante, Manuel Freitas, please contact Virginia Infante

a Engineering Failure Analysis special issue is available